OUR WEEKLY REVIEW.

NEGROES BARRED IN CHARLESTON.
MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES TO PREJUDICE THE PUBLIC MIND. AN APPEAL TO THE NORTHERN COLORED PEOPLE. TWO CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES IN THE 2D N. C. DISTRICT, O'HARA AND ABBOTT. WILL THE NEGROES EVER UNITE? THE OUTLOOK FOR '88. WILL COLORED DELEGATES ATTEND THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION?

We have been informed that the colored people in Charleston, S. C., are not receiving a pro rata share of the contributions sent from different parts of the country. The midnight bring unfavorable reports from that section which tend to operate against the helpless colored sufferers. This is a poor way to prejudice the northern mind against the Negroes of the south. After the earthquake, no class of people worked harder for the helpless white people than the colored people of Charleston, S. C. They are now being compensated with rebuffs and bad treatment on the part of the white managers. There are two

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES in the 2d North Carolina district, Mr. O'Hara and Mr. Abbott. It is claimed that the former is the regular candidate while others claim that Mr. Abbott is the regular candidate. Who is, we are unable to say. Mr. O'Hara has made a fair representative and why there is so much opposition to him we do not know. Will the

COLORED PEOPLE unite upon any question? One or the other of the candidates should get out of the way. If Mr. O'Hara is the regular candidate, Mr. Abbott should retire from the field. To gain respect the colored people should respect themselves. There is a disposition on the part of certain colored people to draw the color line; and yet they ask the white people to give the Negroes their civil and political rights, mixed schools, &c. Why should we ask for that which we do not practice? The outlook

FOR '88 is very gloomy for the republican party, which claims to have the people. There is but one way to solve the Negro question. Colored men must support men and

NOT PARTY. We should support men who will deal justly toward us. If a democrat offers any inducement and pledges himself to "render un-Cesar the things that are Caesar's" then support that man in preference to any white or black man who is inimical to our interests. If in any state the democrats want to send a colored man to the next let him accept and go to that convention as a delegate. The time has come for the Negro to strike for himself. The time has come for him to show his political independence, but not to divide against himself. In the 2d N. C. district we claim that he has divided against himself.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Facts from Ecclesiastical History, including a Brief Sketch of the Motives of Henry VIII of England for Disestablishing the Romish Church in England from the standpoint of the Anglican Church.

(o) — (o)

Henry, VIII, 1509, A. D., married his brother Henry's widow, Catharine daughter of Ferdinand of Arragon, at the time Italy was the ground of strife between France and Spain and Julius II the Pope of Rome, drew Henry into a league to drive the foreigners out of Spain; to show his appreciation of this act of Henry's, the Pope presented Henry's ambassador at the court of Rome a perturbed and blessed Rosebud and bestowed upon him the Cardinal's hat. Julius died in 1513. He was a shrewd politician, and made the affairs of War and State his principal characteristics. Pope Leo X succeeded him. Wolsey, an extraordinary man, who from a teacher, worked his way into the graces of Henry and became his Minister and was made a cardinal by Leo X. To further his own ends Wolsey worked to attain the Papal throne himself by a neat little game with Charles, grandson of Ferdinand, who assured him of the Popacy. This Cardinal Wolsey put the Duke of Buckingham—a great friend of Henry's to death. Here Martin Luther, an Augustine Friar, came in, 1521 A. D. The collection of money for Popal indulgences had been preached for and collected by the Augustines, but had now been taken from them by Leo and turned over to the Dominicans. This enraged Luther and he commenced war on the Pope and commenced to avenge himself by exposing the corruption of the Popal church. Leo X died 1522 A. D., and was succeeded by Adrian, who admitted the corruption of the Romish church. Wolsey who became so great, rich and haughty, dictated to the House of Commons and that body sat down upon him. Adrian died 1524 and was succeeded by Pope Clement VII. Wolsey became very indignant, but Clement continued his great powers and Wolsey was satisfied.

Charles, Emperor of Spain, wanted to marry Henry's daughter, the Princess of Mary; Henry doubted the legitimacy of his marriage with Catharine and sought a dissolution of it because he loved Anne Boleyn, and applied to the Pope for a divorce; the Pope and two Cardinals, Wolsey and Campeggis, got up a court in England to try the case, which was looked to Rome or Catharines' appeal. Wolsey suspected of treachery by Henry, went down under the wrath of Henry and in the fuss the breach between Henry and the Popal power grew wider, and Wolsey after giving a touching caution against worldly ambition, died 1528. Henry began his policy against the Popal power, in the meantime he married Anne Boleyn and Elizabeth is born and his marriage with Catharine annulled by the Bishop of Canterbury, Crammer, a popist, but the Pope nullified Crammer's sentence. Luther's exposure of the Roman church and its corruption is doing great work among the people of Europe: Henry began to demolish the Monasteries: an insurrection broke out against his action, and he hung the popal dupes by scores, and became Pope as well as King and put Crammer to death by burning because he contradicted the real presence in the Eucharist. Henry went on marrying other women, put innocent men and women to death; denied all authority of the Pope in the Religion or State, and died in 1548 A. D. Henry was a great, but cruel king, sparing not "man in his anger nor woman in his lust." He broke the popal power in the British Realm, because he was the recipient of his duplicity, corruptions and grasping of temporal powers, but he never established any church, the Anglican Catholic church still remained as she was founded, but cleared of Popal dominion and arrogance.

In the year 397 A. D., at the council of Carthage, expressing the mind of the whole church throughout the world it was infallibly guided, was identified the canon of the New Testament of Scripture: A. D. 37 Penticost and the one Visible Apostolic church was organized, 62 A. D., the church was in full operation in Judea, Asia Minor and Rome; in 42 A. D., the Gospel according to St. Matthew, 52 A. D., 1st Epistle to the Thessalonians, 53 A. D., 2nd Thess., 57 A. D., 1st and 2nd Corinthians and Gallatians, 58 A. D. Romans, 62 A. D., St. Luke, Philippians, Colossians, Ephesians and Philomen; 66 A. D. St. Peter, St. James; 67 A. D. St. Timothy, St. Titus and St. Jude; 68 A. D. 2nd Timothy, 2nd St. Peter and 1st and 2nd St. John; 90 A. D. St. John and Apocalypse (Revelations).

The church Catholic is founded on the Prophets and Apostles. The old and new Testaments being the inspired and written testimony of the birth, life and death, the Resurrection and the second coming of Christ our Redeemer. See Romans X—4 and St. Luke XXI—25.

In my next I will present the view from the Roman Catholic standpoint, based upon some of the writings and lectures of Arch Bishop Spalding and others.

Respectfully,

WM. V. TURNER.

FRENCH FUN.

It is said that Capoul, the tenor, went into a hairdresser's in London recently to secure the services of the proprietor:

"In what style do you wish your hair dressed?" asked the knight of the curling-tongs, who did not know his customer.

"Why a la Capoul, of course."

"Oh! that's very unbecoming; I'm sure it wouldn't please you."

In the police court.

"You have no profession?"

"I beg your pardon, I'm an inventor."

"And what may you have invented?"

"Nothing yet—I'm looking around for something."

A SKIFF of the time of the early Gauls was recently dug out of the bed of the River Cher in France. It was in good condition.

"Ah!" remarked Calino on hearing of the circumstance, "they'll soon be unearthing steam-boats of the time of Repin the Short."

It is related that M. Grevy, the President of the French Republic, while out hunting recently with a friend, feeling tired, entered a village inn.

"Have you any chickory in the house?" asked M. Grevy of the landlady.

"Certainly, Sir."

"Will you kindly bring me all you have."

The good woman went out, and soon returned with five or six packages.

"You are quite sure you have no more."

"Yes, madame," interrupted the maid, "there's another package that's just been opened."

"Bring it to monsieur," ordered the mistress.

The girl obeyed.

"And this is all you have?"

"I haven't another speck."

"Well!" replied the President, "you may now make us a cup of coffee."

At a singing lesson:

"Young ladies, remember this: Those whose voices are 'broken' should only attempt small pieces."

DURING an examination in a French school:

Who was 'Aristides?' asks the professor. No one answers.

"Why, don't you know who Aristides was? What does the example in the Latin Grammar say? Aristides mortuus est pauper—'Aristides died poor.'"

The son of a money-broker holds up his hand:

"Please, sir, if he died poor he must have been some stupid fool who didn't know enough to make his way on the Bourse!"

X is one of the best fellows in the world—aside from his being a bachelor. Managing mamas are constantly laying traps for him which he neglects to fall into.

"Come!" said Mme. Z to him the other evening, "why don't you marry?"

"I can't bring myself to think of it, dear madame—I have such a horror of divorce!"

In a police court: "What is your profession?" asks the magistrate of the accused.

Prisoner (with much dignity): I am a tragic poet.

Magistrate: But that's not a profession—it's a disease.—Tid Bits.

OPINION OF EDITORS.

VERY UNFAIR.

(Richmond Planet.)

THE first earthquake that ever occurred in this country to cause any damage took place during a Democratic Administration. No wonder the earth was disgusted.

A CORRECT VIEW OF IT.

(BOSTON ADVOCATE.)

Jim Blaine may have sounded the key note, but unless the National Republican party will nominate a clean statesman and give the colored brother a squarer deal in '88 the fate of '84 will surely overtake them.

WISELY STATED.

(Germantown Independent.)

THE Prohibitionists evidently mean business and they are thoroughly organized. They show the merit of honesty in their platform, and in their nomination of a colored man they show a courage never as yet displayed by either of the two great parties of the State. While we may differ with them in opinion, we are always willing to give credit where it is due.

A CORRECT STATEMENT.

(Southern Leader.)

HON. J. R. LYNCH, in the course of a speech at Indianapolis last week, said: When I speak of education, I do not mean book learning merely. We must teach our sons and daughters industrial occupations as well. All of us can not be and ought not to be lawyers, doctors and preachers. We ought to have our blacksmiths, our plasterers, our bricklayers, our manufacturers, our printers and &c.

WE WELCOME HIM.

(THE NEWS.)

It is understood that Mr. Manning, the Secretary of the Treasury, has improved so much in health by the rest he has taken that he will resume his position on the 1st of October. This information is very gratifying, and it is only hoped that it is true. Mr. Manning, however, should inaugurate some reforms when he gets to his office again. He should not seek to attend personally to all the details of his great department.

HE ARRESTED HIS SON.

(The Republic.)

A NIGHT watchman in St. Louis arrested his own son in the act of incendiarism and turned him over to the proper authorities, whereupon the daily press terms him a Spartan father, a hero, etc. It strikes an ordinary man that the proper thing to do is to insist that the man as well as his son should be reformed, at least. It is indeed a rare case where a boy who has had proper teaching and proper parental discipline at home is found, at so early an age, engaged in criminal practices.

HE HAS NEVER SPENT

A CENT.

(The Advocate, D. C.)

The first colored Press Convention met at Louisville August 25, 1889. It has since met at St. Louis, Washington, Richmond and Atlantic City. Why not give Tennessee a chance say Nashville or Chattanooga and thus make it more convenient of access to the press of the South Atlantic and Gulf States? Louisville ought to wait its turn. Besides, the last National Colored Convention was held at Louisville in 1883.
